

Australia does not have a food security problem

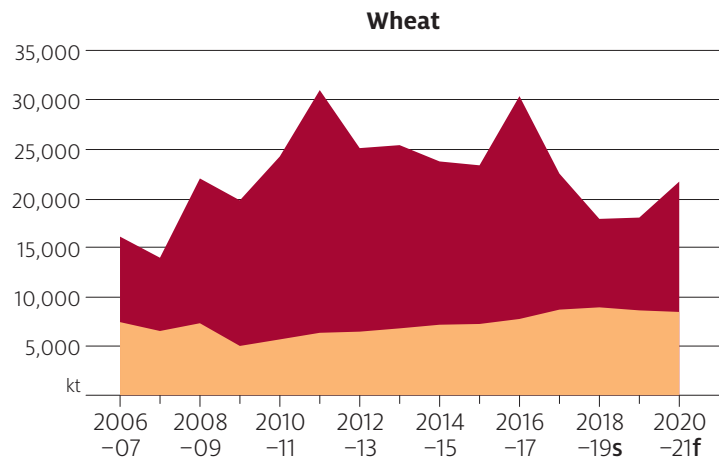

Australia is one of the most food secure nations in the world

Australia produces substantially more food than it consumes

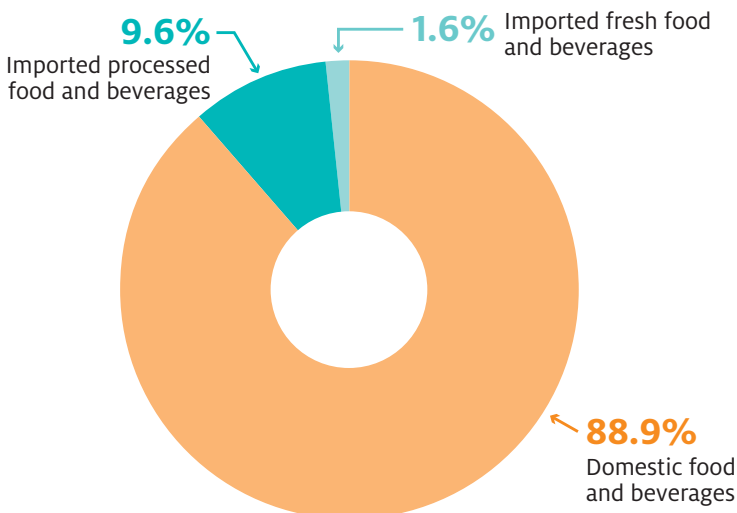

Domestic food consumption is stable, while agricultural exports vary

Note: Share of agricultural production exported by sector, 3 year average, 2015-16 to 2017-18.

● Exports ● Domestic consumption

We only import around 11% of our food – motivated by taste and variety

Global food supplies are in good shape, and prices for staple foods are low
